Sing A Joyful Song

When We All Get to Heaven

Hymn #633

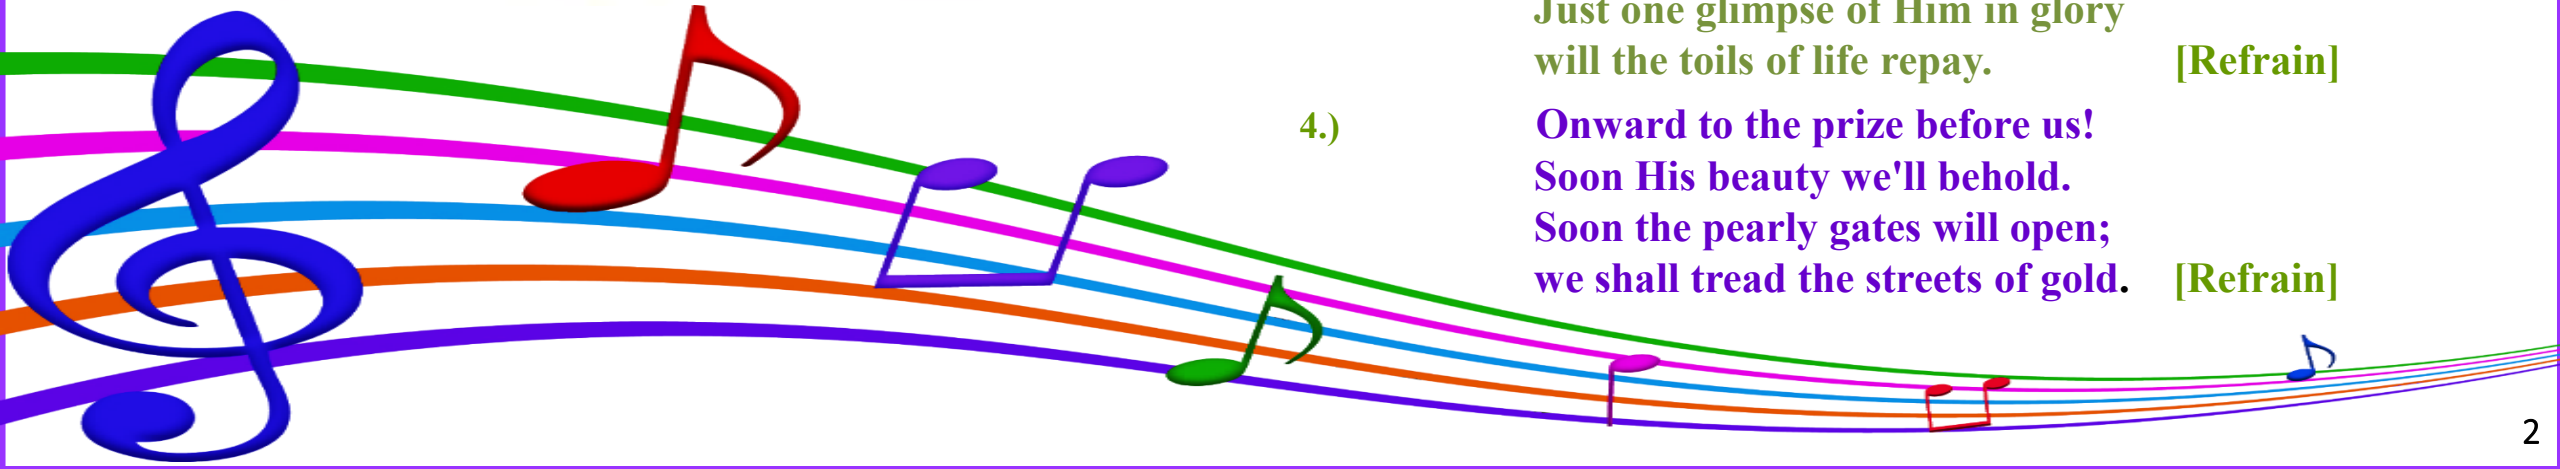

- 1.) Sing the wondrous love of Jesus;
sing His mercy and His grace.
In the mansions, bright and blessed,
He'll prepare for us a place.

Refrain: When the saved get to heaven,
what a day of rejoicing that will be!
When the saved see Jesus,
we'll sing and shout the victory!

- 2.) While we walk the pilgrim pathway, clouds will overspread the sky;
but when trav'ling days are over,
not a shadow, not a sigh! [Refrain]

- 3.) Let us then be true and faithful, trusting, serving ev'ry day.
Just one glimpse of Him in glory will the toils of life repay. [Refrain]

- 4.) Onward to the prize before us!
Soon His beauty we'll behold.
Soon the pearly gates will open;
we shall tread the streets of gold. [Refrain]

“The Story of Jesus!”
Chapter 32 – The Home of the Saved

Narrated by
Our Dear Brother Graves

I know that, whatsoever
God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.
Ecclesiastes 3:14

The Bible verses for our lessons are taken from the following books:

Our opening scripture is taken from:

Psalms 9:5 (KJV)

Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.

Isaiah 45:18 (KJV)

For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I [am] the LORD; and [there is] none else.

Ecclesiastes 3:14 (KJV)

I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth [it], that [men] should fear before him.

Chapter 32 – The Home of the Saved

The Day of Christ's coming is a day of destruction only to evil.

It is a day of redemption, not only for God's people, but for the earth. {SJ 183.1}

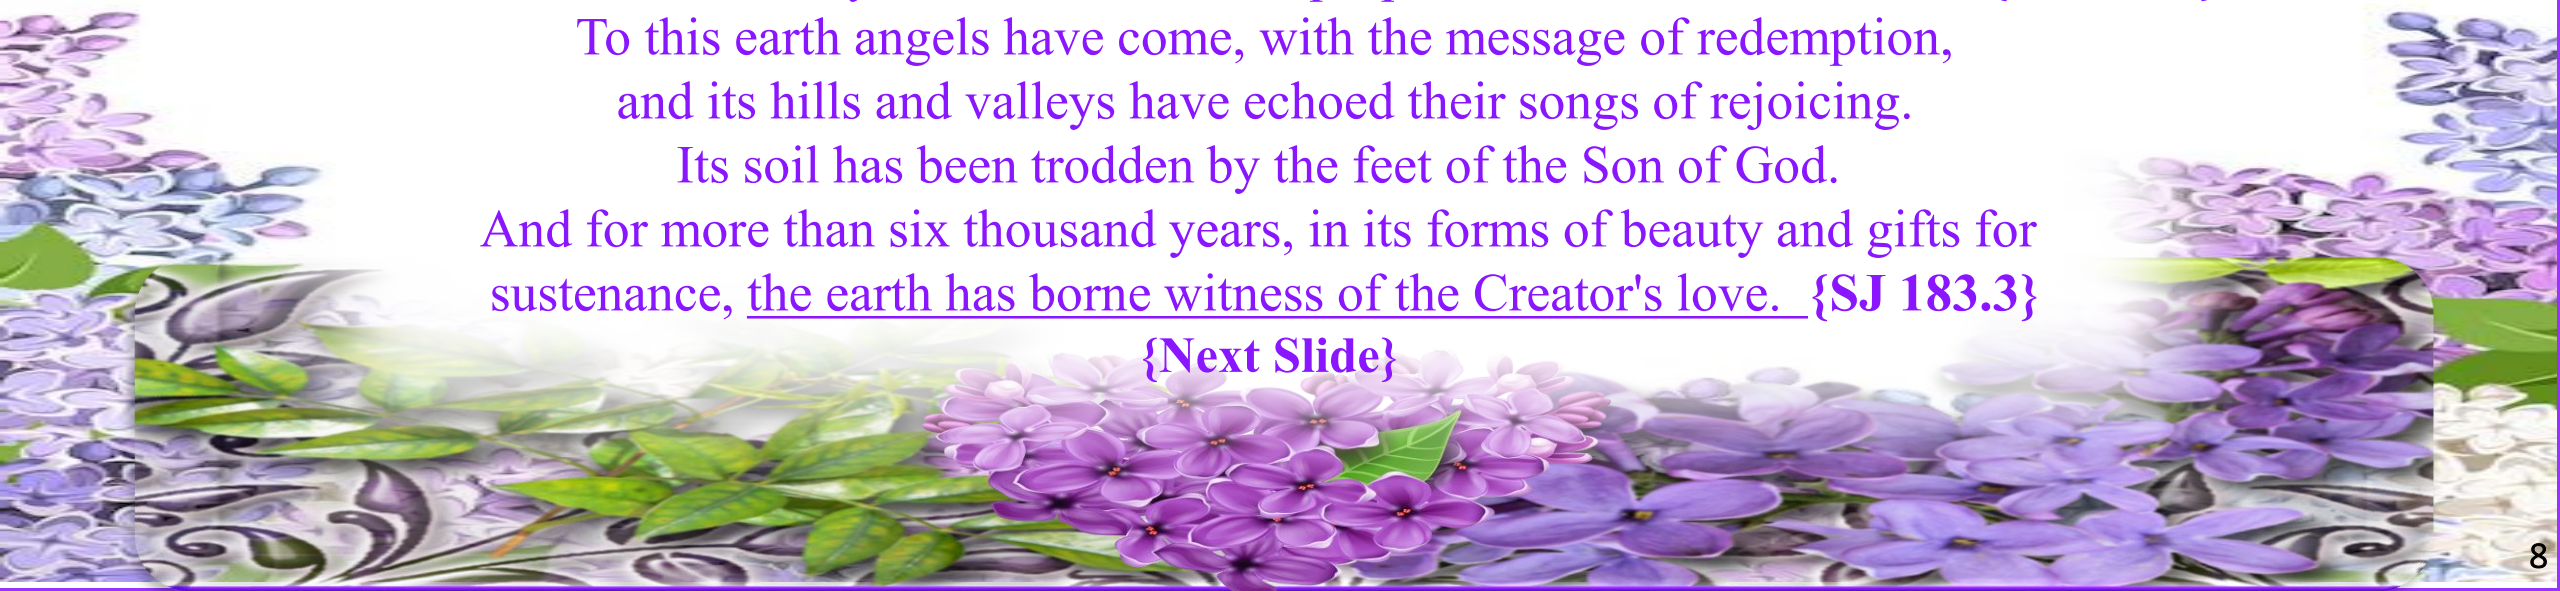

God created the earth to be man's home. Here Adam dwelt in that garden of delight which the Creator Himself had beautified. Though sin has marred God's work, yet the human race has not been abandoned by its Creator; nor His purpose for the earth set aside. {SJ 183.2}

To this earth angels have come, with the message of redemption, and its hills and valleys have echoed their songs of rejoicing.

Its soil has been trodden by the feet of the Son of God.

And for more than six thousand years, in its forms of beauty and gifts for sustenance, the earth has borne witness of the Creator's love. {SJ 183.3}

{Next Slide}

Continuing: This same earth, freed from the curse of sin, is to be man's eternal home.

Of the earth the Scripture says, that God “created it not in vain, He formed it to be inhabited.” Isaiah 45:18.

And “whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever.” Ecclesiastes 3:14. {SJ 183.4}

So in the Sermon on the Mount the Saviour declared,

“Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.” Matthew 5:5. {SJ 184.1}

So the psalmist long before had written, “The meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.” Psalms 37:11. {SJ 184.2}

Canaanite Woman

“After the encounter with the Pharisees, Jesus withdrew from Capernaum, and crossing Galilee, repaired to the hill country on the borders of Phoenicia. Looking westward, He could see, spread out upon the plain below, the ancient cities of Tyre and Sidon, with their heathen temples, their magnificent palaces and marts of trade, and the harbors filled with shipping. Beyond was the blue expanse of the Mediterranean, over which the messengers of the gospel were to bear its glad tidings to the centers of the world's great empire. But the time was not yet. The work before Him now was to prepare His disciples for their mission. In coming to this region He hoped to find the retirement He had failed to secure at Bethsaida. Yet this was not His only purpose in taking this journey.

“Behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, Thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil” (Matthew 15:22, R.V.). The people of this district were of the old Canaanite race. They were idolaters, and were despised and hated by the Jews. To this class belonged the woman who now came to Jesus. As she heard of His power, hope sprang up in her heart. Inspired by a mother’s love, she determined to present her daughter’s case to Him. “To The Law and the Testimonies!”
Isaiah 8:20 (KJV)

- 1.) HEALTH
- 2.) HEALTHFULNESS
- 3.) CONFLIT

“Health” in Scripture & Spirit of Prophecy

“Our bodies are built up from the food we eat. There is a constant breaking down of the tissues of the body; every movement of every organ involves waste, and this waste is repaired from our food. Each organ of the body requires its share of nutrition. The brain must be supplied with its portion; the bones, muscles, and nerves demand theirs. It is a wonderful process that transforms the food into blood and uses this blood to build up the varied parts of the body; but this process is going on continually, supplying with life and strength each nerve, muscle, and tissue.” {MH 295.1}

“In order to know what are the best foods, we must study God's original plan for man's diet. He who created man and who understands his needs appointed Adam his food. And God said, “Behold”, “I have given you every herb bearing seed, which [is] upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which [is] the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.” Genesis 1:29, Upon leaving Eden to gain his livelihood by tilling the earth under the curse of sin, man received permission to eat also "the herb of the field." Genesis 3:18.
{MH-The Ministry of Healing 295.3}

“Grains, fruits, nuts, and vegetables constitute the diet chosen for us by our Creator. These foods, prepared in as simple and natural a manner as possible, are the most healthful and nourishing. They impart a strength, a power of endurance, and a vigor of intellect that are not afforded by a more complex and stimulating diet.” {MH-The Ministry of Healing 296.1}

“Health” in Scripture & Spirit of Prophecy

The Study of Physiology

Parents should early seek to interest their children in the study of physiology and should teach them its simpler principles. Teach them how best to preserve the physical, mental, and spiritual powers, and how to use their gifts so that their lives may bring blessing to one another and honor to God. This knowledge is invaluable to the young. An education in the things that concern life and health is more important to them than a knowledge of many of the sciences taught in the schools. {MH-The Ministry of Healing 385.4}

Parents should live more for their children, and less for society. Study health subjects, and put your knowledge to a practical use. Teach your children to reason from cause to effect. Teach them that if they desire health and happiness, they must obey the laws of nature. Though you may not see so rapid improvement as you desire, be not discouraged, but patiently and perseveringly continue your work. {MH-The Ministry of Healing 386.1}

Human Body Systems

There are 11 main systems that keep our bodies functioning. Learn the primary roles of each in the diagram below.

“HEALTHFULNESS” in Scripture & Spirit of Prophecy

“The healthfulness of youth requires exercise, cheerfulness, and a happy, pleasant atmosphere surrounding them, for the development of physical health and symmetrical character.” {CG-Child Guidance 225.4}

“Christ could not help being bright and shining. His very work was to shine. I am come, He said, "that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." In Me is no darkness at all. . . . Light means revelation, and the light is to shine amid moral darkness. Christ is everything to those who receive Him. He is their Comforter, their safety, their healthfulness. Apart from Christ there is no light at all. There need not be a cloud between the soul and Jesus. . . . His great heart of love is longing to flood the soul with the bright beams of His righteousness (letter 153a, 1897).”
{LHU-Lift Him UP 221.7}

“We have been entrusted with the most solemn message ever given to our world, and the object to be kept plainly and distinctly before our minds is the glory of God. Let us take care that we do nothing which will weaken physical, mental, or spiritual healthfulness, for God will not accept a tainted, diseased, corrupted sacrifice. Care must be exercised in eating, in drinking, in dressing, and in working, lest we detract from our efficiency and fail of doing our most exalted work in the best manner, in order that the results of our labor may be as lasting as eternity.” {OFC-Our High Calling 108.3}

“CONFLIT” in Scripture & Spirit of Prophecy

Colossians 2:1-3 (KJV)

- 2:1 For I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and [for] them at Laodicea, and [for] as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;
- 2:2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;
- 2:3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

MR No. 1152 - The Message of 1888; An Appeal for Unity; The Need for the Indwelling Christ

This message has not had the influence that it should have had upon the mind and heart of the believers. The true state of the church is to be presented before men, and they are to receive the word of God not as something originating with men, but as the word of God. Many have treated the message to the Laodiceans as it has come to them, as the word of man. Both message and messenger have been held in doubt by those who should have been the first to discern and act upon it as the word of God. Had they received the word of God sent to them, they would not now be in darkness. "For I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; that their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and the Father, and of Christ" [Colossians 2:1, 2]. {15MR 91.2}

Jesus came to this world to seek and save the lost of any race, religion, or circumstances.

THIS SABBATH WE WILL REVIEW MORE ABOUT OUR FIRST TOPIC! MAMMALS OF PREY - BEARS

Mammals of Prey—Bears

Bears are generally omnivorous, but dietary preferences range from seals for the entirely carnivorous polar bear (Ursus maritimus) to assorted vegetation for the largely herbivorous spectacled bear (Tremarctos ornatus).

The giant panda (Ailuropoda melanoleuca) eats only bamboo.

Mammals of Prey—Bears

Where do you find bears?
They are found in forests, meadows, river valleys,
and even treeless plains.
Where did Jesus find the woman of Canaan?

WHERE BEARS LIVE

“Bears are found in the Americas, Europe, and Asia. They are often found in mountainous areas and forests. The black bear lives in North America. The brown bear is found in North America, Europe, and Asia. The Asiatic black bear and the sloth bear live in parts of Asia. The world’s far northern regions called the Arctic are home to the polar bear.”

“Most bears live in northern regions with a mild or cold climate. However, the spectacled bear is found in the Andes Mountains of South America. The sloth bear of India and Sri Lanka lives in hot or warm regions.”

GEOGRAPHIC RANGE OF THE EIGHT BEAR SPECIES

INTRODUCTION

“Bears are large, powerful mammals related to dogs and raccoons. The biggest bears are the world’s largest animals that live on land and eat meat. There are several species, or types, of bear. They are the polar bear, the brown bear, the black bear, the Asiatic black bear, the sun bear, the spectacled bear, and the sloth bear. The brown bear is commonly called the grizzly bear in North America. Most scientists also consider the giant panda to be a member of the bear family.”

There are several species, or types, of bear

BEHAVIOURS

“Bears are carnivores, or meat eaters.
For example, the polar bear eats seals, walrus, and fish.

However, other bears eat a large amount of plants as well as animals. They may eat roots, seeds, berries, and nuts, plus insects, fish, and deer.

In the autumn most bears eat a lot to put on extra fat. They then sleep through most of the winter.

This is similar to a very deep resting state called hibernation. But bears are not true hibernators.

Their body temperature, heartbeat rate, and breathing rate do not drop much lower than normal.”

What does the Grizzly and the Brown Bears Eat: Review

Brown bears eat berries, bulbs, roots, and animal foods like squirrels, insects, and fish. Brown bears are omnivores, though about 90% of their diet consists of plant foods.

The brown bear is considered one of the most omnivorous creatures in the animal kingdom.

In other words, this bear isn't a picky eater.

In addition to the foods mentioned above, a brown bear forages for fruit, flowers, moss, and grasses.

It also loves different kinds of fungi, like mushrooms, and eats acorns and pine cones from the area's trees.

Animals hunted by the brown bear are usually small.

Marmots, mice, and squirrels are common prey.

This bear also eats carrion (already deceased animals), baby animals like fawns (baby deer), and might kill an injured animal in their path. Brown bears that live on the coast will dig for clams and spend hours in the water attempting to catch fish like salmon and trout.

Continuing our Review Part 2

A Kodiak bear is a type of brown bear in Alaska and one of the largest bears in the world. Kodiak bears probably eat more than any other brown bear, requiring a very high amount of calories per day.

Here's a list of common foods brown bears eat:

Acorns	Fish	Lemmings	Shoots
Baby animals (like fawns)	Flowers	Marmots	Squirrels
Bark	Forbs	Mice	Voles
Berries	Fruit	Moss
Birds	Fungi	Moths
Bulbs	Grasses	Nuts
Carrion	Herbs	Pine Cones
Clams	Insects	Rats
Crab	Larvae	Roots
Eggs	Leaves	Sedges

Continuing our Review Part 3

Very few plants and animals are a match against the brown bear's massive paws and long claws. Whether foraging or hunting, anything snagged by those claws is destined to be dinner, and brown bears can be very patient on the hunt, if necessary. Adult brown bears are usually too large to climb trees to catch their prey, but might wait at the bottom for the animal to fall or come back down. Despite their hefty size, brown bears can run fast to catch their target, reaching speeds of around 35 miles per hour.

When a brown bear hunts fish, it can do so in several ways. It might search in shallow pools of water where salmon gather to rest. It could stand in the river current and pounce on a school of fish swimming toward it. Or the bear might stand near the river edge and scoop fish from the water to send them flying toward the shore.

BEARS PHYSICAL FEATURES

“Bears range in height from about 3 to 10 feet (1 to 3 meters). The sun bear is the smallest species. A kind of Alaskan brown bear called the Kodiak bear is the largest bear. It may weigh 1,720 pounds (780 kilograms). Some polar bears are almost that big.

Most bears are mainly brown, red-brown, or black. Some have white markings on the chest or face. The type called the black bear is sometimes actually brown, blue-gray, or even white. The polar bear's white fur helps it blend in with the Arctic ice and snow.

Bears have broad heads, large bodies, and short legs and tails. They have poor eyesight but an excellent sense of smell. Most kinds are good at climbing trees and at swimming.”

REPRODUCTION

“Adult bears tend to live alone except during the mating season. A female bear gives birth to one to four cubs, or babies, at a time. At first the cubs are tiny, hairless, and helpless. They drink their mother’s milk for about two months. The cubs stay with their mother for 18 months or more.”

What do Brown Bears Eat in the Fall?

“Because brown bears hibernate through the winter, they eat more in the fall than in any other season — up to 90 pounds of food per day. Through spring and summer, these bears might eat around 8,000 calories daily. That number more than doubles in the fall when brown bears eat up to 20,000 or more calories every day. All that food helps them pack on extra body fat. As the bear hibernates, the excess fat is broken down and used to supply its body with water and energy to stay alive.

The brown bear eats the same essential foods in the fall as it does in warmer months, though some favorites become scarce. When summer fruit, flowers, herbs, and leaves are no longer available in autumn, bears eat more bulbs, roots, small animals, and insects.

Brown bears can last for at least 100 days without food during hibernation, if they eat enough before entering this resting phase, called torpor. Where do bears hibernate? The brown bear usually curls up for torpor in a cave, holes in the ground, or a den they might make from a hollowed log.”

In Conclusion

“Brown bears eat many different plants and wild animals, but they don’t hunt humans for food. However, a brown bear can be dangerous to humans in certain circumstances. For example, they might attack people if provoked, if they feel threatened, or if they have been conditioned to view humans as a source of food.

Mother bears (sows) are very protective of their cubs.
Many fatal grizzly bear attacks on humans have involved mother bears defending their cubs, but not all North American bear attacks are caused by sows.
So, even if you don’t see their mother nearby, don’t go anywhere near brown bear cubs.”

(For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

1. My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour divine;
Now hear me while I pray,
Take all my guilt away;
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine.

3. When life's dark maze I tread
And griefs around me spread
Be thou my guide
Bid darkness turn to day
Wipe sorrow's tears away
Nor let me ever stray
From thee aside

Strength to my fainting heart,
My zeal inspire;
As thou hast died for me,
O may my love to Thee,
Pure, warm, and changeless be,
A living fire!
